About Us

MANDEVILLE, LOUISIANA – Clearwave is specialty contracting company that focuses on the commercial meeting room and collaborative space environment. Clearwave is privately held and located in the piney woods on the Northshore of Lake Pontchartrain 25 miles outside of New Orleans, Louisiana. In February 2009, Clearwave was awarded the distinction of Emerald Level Solutions Provider for the International Communications Industry Association (ICIA). This honor recognizes the training investment that management believes is so important and states that “35% of all Customer Service, Sales and Technical staff have and maintain general or advanced CTS certification or certain InfoComm Academy course completion.”

Our project experience has taken us from Las Vegas to Atlanta and includes such client names as Google, Aetna Insurance, The Department of Homeland Security, The W Hotel, and many others (see Project Portfolio on website). We assist End Users, Architects, Corporate Entities, Museums, Federal and State Agencies, and General Contractors in designing, planning, installing, project-managing, and servicing av systems.

The scope of projects we work on is varied including simple conference and training rooms to more elaborate systems such as the 40+ classrooms at Camp Shelby in Mississippi or the 18 courtrooms of audio for the 24th Judicial District Court System in Gretna, Louisiana. Clearwave offers higher end commercial video solutions such as 3D projection and high resolution projectors and video walls.

Our Approach with Clients

When we work with clients, we consider the room environment as a whole and recommend appropriate ideas and solutions which can involve lighting, control of the environment, windows and shade treatments, and even furniture. We work with clients hand in hand to help them plan for present and future technology needs in their meeting rooms and it runs the course from planning for cabling infrastructure to creating a final product that results in a seamless technology environment. Our belief is that it all starts with trust and that is built by a reputation involving straightforward promises, honest team members, competent professionals, and correcting mistakes that may occur quickly and without excuse.
